

The Argo + Envoy Partnership

Argo is the world's first technology platform to connect visa applicants with former consular officers to prepare for a successful visa interview. Argo Officers, or Argoffs, have personally conducted thousands of visa interviews and understand how decisions are made on who is eligible for a U.S. visa, whether it is for tourism, business, studies, or employment in the United States. For the first time, you will have true insider information on what is happening behind the visa window.

The Value of Partnering With Us

By working with us, partners will be able to leverage the wisdom of experienced former consular officers to provide their employees the best possible preparation for their visa interview. Whether you're a fast-growth tech startup or a Fortune 100 company, we're here to provide peace of mind and confidence throughout the interview process.

In Fiscal Year 2018, over 41% of all non-immigrant visas were refused by consular officers overseas.

Who are Argo Officers (Argoffs)?

Argo Officers are all former U.S. Government employees who have worked as visa officers on behalf of the U.S. State Department in embassies and consulates around the world.

Where have Argoffs Worked?

What languages do Argoffs speak*?

Mandarin

Spanish

French

Portuguese

Polish

* More locations and languages coming

How it works

- 1 Company becomes Argo Partner

- 2 Employee gets access to the Argo platform through Envoy

- 3 Argo will ask the employee a series of questions and collect information necessary for Argoff to evaluate their case

- 4 Employee books an available time for Argoff consultation

- 5 Employee has one-on-one videoconference consultation with Argoff to prepare for visa interview

